Hidden Shoal Recordings » Toby Richardson – ‘King Of All The Moves’

Perth, Western Australia; 14th October 2010. Hidden Shoal Recordings today announced the release of new single ‘King Of All The Moves’ by Australian lo-fi rock magician Toby Richardson.

In his inimitable bent rock stylings Richardson has produced another irreverent indie rock ‘n’ roll gem. ‘King Of All The Moves’ is like a garage band falling endlessly down a cartoon staircase. The track pays homage to dirty rock while turning it inside out and painting it with jelly. The songs skewed melodicism, married with Richardsons innate sense of songcraft, creates a soundtrack to some unimaginable ‘70s cop show filled with sequins, half-naked dancers and possibly a dolphin. ‘King Of All The Moves’ is irrepressible dance music for the PCP crowd.

“psychedelic, lo-fi, indie-rock, with a touch of late 1960s/early 1970s fuzzed and dirty psychedelic blues-rock... a schizophrenic mixture... an exciting blend.” – Luna Kafe on debut album *Evergreen

“Take some of the bluesy aspects of Captain Beefheart and mix it with some ‘90s college rock sensibilities and you’ve got the Toby Richardson sound. Fuzzed-out lo-fi classic rock is the order of the day... its exaggeration is laced with an addictive quality that will have you coming back for more.” – It’s Not The Band I Hate It’s Their Fans

Toby Richardson is a 30-something Perth resident, living in the inner northern suburbs and recording his rock ‘n’ roll dreams from the comfort of home. Toby’s previous releases include the album Evergreen, featuring single ‘Booragoon Lagoon’, and the Golden Days EP. Toby also recorded as part of legendary ‘90s Perth band Mustang!

‘King Of All The Moves’ is available for free download from the Hidden Shoal Store. The track is lifted from the upcoming EP The Stones and the Rabbits out on 2nd December 2010.
